Living and Deceased Members of the Bauer and Armbruster Families

Excerpts from A Flourish and Apostolic Church, A Pastoral Letter from Bishop Edward C. Malesic

The Paschal Mystery – the suffering, death, and Resurrection of Jesus – is at the very heart of our Catholic faith. Like the mystery of the Trinity and the mystery of the Incarnation, the Paschal Mystery is not a problem to be solved; the Paschal Mystery solves us. Our entrance into Jesus' Paschal Mystery solves our lives with grace, depth, direction, meaning, satisfaction, and, ultimately, salvation. Our personal and communal participation in the suffering, death, and Resurrection of Jesus allows the Church to flourish, both as individual members and as a diocese.

As Jesus was preparing to enter into his Paschal Mystery, he told his disciples, "Amen, amen, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains just a grain of wheat; but if it dies, it produces much fruit" (Jn. 12:24). Our Lord was speaking of himself, but he was also speaking to us about ourselves. He was telling us that there will be no Easter Sunday without a Good Friday, and no Good Friday without an Easter Sunday.

We Catholic Christians first enter into the Paschal Mystery by following Jesus down into the deep, sanctifying waters of Baptism. There, by the power of the Holy Spirit, we die to our old selves and then rise anew as beloved sons and daughters of the Father, joining the family of God, which we call the Church. This baptismal dive into the Paschal Mystery sets the pattern for our lives. The more we die to self, the more we live for Christ, and the more we find the abundant life we all seek. Catholic Christian living is not about a one-time conversion, but about a lifetime of conversions, of authentic growth in friendship with God. The daily rhythm of our dying-to-self and rising up to Christ prepares us for the ultimate moment when we will each have to face the reality of our own death, with the hope of our own resurrection from the dead to find our ultimate fulfillment as God's beloved children.

Dying to self is difficult. It means letting go. It means surrendering. And often involves deep and painful suffering. Dying, letting go, surrendering, and enduring, painful suffering faithfully do not come easy to us as human beings. In our fallen nature, we often cling to our own desires, our own dreams, our own plans, and even if God has other and better and more fulfilling desires, dreams, and plans for us that we may not yet see. To trust that God is good, and that he is not in competition with our freedom, joy, and happiness is often difficult, and at times may even seem impossible. Many of us know that "God is good" and that "God is for us" and that "God loves us" in our heads, but how many of us do not experience God's love in our hearts? How many of us today long for the real experiential knowledge of God's love? Sometimes we feel abandoned by God. How many of us, especially during times of suffering in agony, think the God has left the room? All too often we conclude that we must fend for ourselves, because we think that if we don't take care of ourselves, no one else will take care of us, and no one else will make me happy.

In these difficult times, we return our eyes once again to Jesus. He came to a friend us, to save us from our loneliness, our sense of meaninglessness, our anxiety, our depression, our pain, our worry, our isolation, and our sin. Jesus came to save us from ourselves. He came to assure us that we are not alone, and that God is not dead, and that there is an answer to our insatiable longing in each of our hearts for perfect love, perfect understanding, perfect friendship, and perfect acceptance.

CHILDREN'S LITURGY

CHILDREN'S LITURGY OF THE WORD

Attending Mass together is a part of being a Catholic family, and Children's Liturgy of the Word allows kids to enter the celebration more fully by catering to their needs. In Children's Liturgy of the Word, children leave the congregation to celebrate and reflect on the Sunday scripture reading in an age appropriate way. Before the first reading, they are called with the children's lectors to the front of church for a blessing. They then proceed together to the glass enclosed room in the back of church, where they are led through prayers, songs, readings and discussion adapted to their level of understanding. They return to their family when the Offertory begins. If your little one feels a bit intimidated by that long middle aisle, you are welcome to accompany them to the front, or to meet the lectors at the back of the church. Soon they may feel more comfortable with joining the group! All children from age 4 to 1st grade are invited to participate weekly during the 10:30 Mass. New parishioners' and visitors' kids are especially welcome to join in at any time. No registration is necessary.

Women of the Parishes

We all need prayer... our priests need prayer too! Seven Sisters Apostolate, an international ministry, has a mission to pray for individual priests through small groups of seven. Each woman chooses a different day of the week and offers one Holy Hour. Thus the priest receives a Holy Hour every day. This is a blessing for the priest and a privilege and blessing for the intercessor. The initial recipient of a Seven Sisters group is the pastor and Fr. Kevin's group is formed; please be in touch to support Fr. Patrick in this same way! Seven Sisters Contact: Patti Hunt 234-222-0353.
